WINDWARD PARTNERS MERGES WITH THE EXPERTS

CHARLOTTE, NC (November 8, 2007) – The Experts, Inc. and Windward Partners, Inc. today announced they have joined forces to create an even stronger team of technology professionals, adding a Carolinas presence to a broadening list of regions already served by The Experts. The merged company has retained The Experts' name.

Windward Partners is a Charlotte, NC based corporation that provides technology consulting and professional services to clients in North Carolina and South Carolina. "We are proud to join an exceptional organization with an outstanding reputation," said John Crigler, Managing Partner of Windward Partners, Inc. "Our clients will benefit from the wider range of service offerings we'll be able to deliver as part of The Experts. Our consultants will benefit from the additional opportunity and exposure the merger creates."

"This merger provides great synergies in all aspects of our business. The established Charlotte presence has a tremendous amount of potential through existing relationships and from the additional support that the merger provides," stated Thomas P. Hoshko, The Experts' Chief Operating Officer. "John Crigler and Greg Smith have developed a solid, profitable, and motivated organization. We are excited to have them on our team and to better serve this continuously growing market."

Added Thomas E. Hoshko, President and CEO of The Experts, "The merger with Windward Partners fits well with our strategic plan and continued geographic expansion, putting us in an even stronger position to support customers in the Carolinas and throughout the country."

The Experts, Inc. is a VOSB (Veteran Owned Small Business) that provides IT, engineering and professional services to Fortune 500 companies, as well as the federal government and Department of Defense. The Experts is an approved supplier for the U. S. Government (GSA Schedule 70) and has been listed on Inc. magazine's Inc. 500 as one of America's fastest-growing private companies.

The Experts is headquartered in Fort Lauderdale, FL, with offices in Phoenix, AZ.; Dallas, TX; Atlanta, GA; Alexandria, VA; and Tallahassee, FL. The locations combine to provide services in 22 states across the country with plans to expand into Europe and the Middle East.
